

Modern Language Association (MLA) Style Guidelines Overview

Introduction

This poster overviews basic guidelines for using MLA style. To supplement this poster, consult the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (7th edition). Publishing scholars and graduate students should also consult the MLA Style Manual and Guide to Scholarly Publishing (3rd edition). The MLA handbooks are available in most writing centers, libraries, and bookstores. You may also reference the Purdue University OWL for information on using MLA style: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/>.

Formatting

Type MLA essays on white 8.5 x 11 inch paper. Margins should be 1 inch on all sides. All text should be double-spaced. Use a legible font (e.g. Times New Roman) in 10 to 12 pt. size. In the upper left-hand corner of the first page, list your name, your instructor's name, the course, and the date.

Headers should contain your last name and page numbers (1, 2, 3...) in the upper right-hand corner, one-half inch from the top and flush with the right margin. Double space between the essay's title (not bolded, underlined, etc.) and the first line of the text. Indent the first line of each paragraph one half-inch (five spaces or press tab once) from the left margin.

Works Cited Page Format

Begin the Works Cited list on a separate page at the end of your essay. Maintain MLA formatting standards. Title the page Works Cited and center the title.

In-Text Citations

One Author

Use parenthetical citation to cite outside sources in your text. The page number(s) of your outside source should always appear in the parenthetical citation. The author's name of the outside source may appear in the sentence itself.

Wordsworth stated that Romantic poetry was marked by a "spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings" (263).

Or the author's name can go in the parentheses following the quote.

Romantic poetry is characterized by the "spontaneous over flow of powerful feelings" (Wordsworth 263).

Multiple Authors

For a source with three or fewer authors, list the authors' last names in the text or in the parenthetical citation.

Smith, Yang, and Moore argue that tougher gun control is not needed in the United States (76).

The authors state "Tighter gun control in the U.S. erodes Second Amendment rights" (Smith, Yang, and Moore 76).

For a source with more than three authors, use the work's bibliographic information as a guide for your citation. Provide the first author's last name followed by "et al." or list all the last names.

Jones et al. counter Smith, Yang, and Moore's argument by noting that the current spike in gun violence in America compels law makers to adjust gun laws (4).

No Known Author

For a source with no known author, use a shortened title of the resource in the parenthetical citation.

Many global warming hotspots exist in North America because this region has "comprehensive programs to monitor the environment" ("Impact of Global Warming" 6).

Citing Multivolume Works

If you cite from different volumes of a multivolume work, always include the volume number followed by a colon.

. . . as Quintilian wrote in Institutio Oratoria (1: 14-17).

Internet Sources

For Internet sources, include the author's name and the title of the page. You do not need a page or paragraph number in the parenthetical citation.

One online film critic stated that Fitzcarraldo is ". . . a scary critique of obsession" (Garcia, "Herzog: a Life").

Works Cited

Basics

List citations by author's last name (for entire edited collections, editor names) in alphabetical order. Type last name first, then the middle names or middle initials. Indent subsequent lines for a hanging indent.
